3. Chemical Biological Warfare (CBW) Study:

25X1

Although the Committee approved the study, they concluded that the recommended CBW Intelligence Subcommittee should be established under the auspices of the CIPC vice an independent CBW Intelligence Committee as proposed by the CBW Working Group. The Committee was concerned about the establishment and proliferation of independent committees, but did agree to review within 6-12 months the question of status and make whatever adjustments or organizational changes that are necessary to ensure the effectiveness of the new CBW Intelligence Subcommittee. In addition, the Chairman appointed, with Committee concurrence, Dr. Glenn Priddy, Chairman of the CIPC CBW Intelligence Subcommittee. Dr. Priddy is LTG Odom's Special Assistant. [Redacted]

25X1

4. The first meeting of the new subcommittee has been scheduled on 21 September to develop their operational Terms of Reference. Additionally, the CIPC Principals have been asked to identify their respective members to the CIPC CBW Intelligence Subcommittee. [Redacted]

5. Meanwhile, the CIPC staff has restructured the CBW Study and incorporated the Committee's comments and recommendations discussed at the 20 August CIPC meeting. The revised study will be forwarded to the CIPC Principals by mid-September for their final review. Subsequently, the study will be forwarded to you and the DCI with the recommendation that the CBW Study be tabled at a forthcoming NFIC meeting.

6. DCI Terrorism Analyst Network (FLASHBOARD):

BGEN Eickelberger, CENTCOM's new J-2, met with the CIPC staff during August to discuss possible installation of a FLASHBOARD terminal at his headquarters at MacDill AFB, Florida. We have also learned that General Beckel, the Air Staff's Director of Operations, will request a FLASHBOARD terminal for the Air Force's new "Combatting Terrorism Center" in the Pentagon. The network's current subscribers are concerned that such expansion could inhibit the system's utility. The CIPC staff is working with the NIO for Counterterrorism to develop a solution which meets their needs and yet maintains FLASHBOARD's current effectiveness. We are scheduled to meet with CENTCOM representatives at MacDill AFB in September.

7. International Terrorism Study:

Now that we have completed our efforts with regard to NSDD-138, the CIPC staff has resumed work on the Terrorism Study. Our objective is to develop a companion document to the DCI's NSDD-138 response. Since the NSDD response concentrates on resource requirements, the study probably will concentrate on non-resource considerations such as organization, procedures, and training. The study update should be ready for working group consideration in October. Furthermore, the Terrorism Working Group has been without a chairman since July. We are in the process of selecting a new chairman and plan to have one identified by mid-September.

8. Soviet Ballistic Missile Defense:

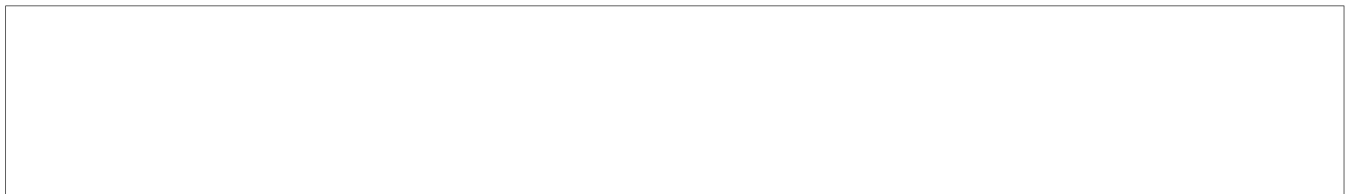

In response to your direction, the BMD Study was forwarded to the NFIC Members for their review and comment by 20 September 1984.

25X1

9. Concurrently, the Perry Panel has been tasked to provide the Chairman, CIPC, an interim report on their deliberations and findings to date. This interim response is being developed and is scheduled to be completed by 14 September.

12. International Narcotics Study:

A final report is being prepared for you which focuses on two principal areas of concern to the Community in its support to the narcotics effort. These are:

- interagency coordination on narcotics matters, and
- narcotics intelligence collection.

25X1

13. Our intention is to develop a short paper by 30 September which will probably emphasize two or three major points, among which are:

- that a practical and effective architecture now exists for interagency coordination, and
- that while there are some substantive gaps in the narcotics collection area, the NIO/Narcotics is aware of these issues and the Community is addressing most of them in the budget out-years.
